

WE'VE ALWAYS EXPANDED YOUNG MINDS.

NOW WE'RE TRYING TO

SHRINK THE OTHER PARTS.

WE'RE PROUD TO ANNOUNCE WE'RE NOW FUNDING HEALTH PROGRAMS.

It's no question that the hard-working faculty of Marin County schools do their very best to encourage, improve and inspire the growth of our kids' budding grey matter. But skyrocketing obesity rates, kids glued to any screen they can get their hands on, and a startling lack of P.E. teachers, well, the prognosis for the future of our kids' physical health isn't looking so hot. We're already working to improve literacy, technology and the arts for all of the 34,345 kids of Marin — and now we're adding health, both physical and mental, to our roster. We're talking about doing what we can to get kids off their smart phones and out into the world; we're talking about improving and adding to the physical education initiatives already in place; we're talking about educational programs aimed at teaching our kids the glory of healthy eating. We want the kids of Marin County happy and healthy, in body and mind, whatever that takes. And who are we exactly? We're SchoolsRule and we're here, with your help, to make a difference in the lives of the kids — each and every one of them — in Marin County.

We're what happens when you take a group of dedicated public school foundations, put them hand-in-hand with the Marin County Office of Education and then sit back and watch as they work their tails off to ensure that there isn't a kid roaming a school hallway from Sausalito to Novato or from San Rafael to Tomales who isn't being given the very best opportunities. It's simple: you donate money to a great cause, SchoolsRule takes that money and divides it up based on a per-student basis and then sprinkles it evenly over the whole of the county. It's not just a good idea, it's an idea that works, time and time again.

Let's keep the word "big" reserved for our kids' hearts and brains. It just works better that way.
